TEACHER INFORMATION

We request that you take a few moments to provide us with this information. We would like this information before and special teachers discount is applied.

At JDR Brazilian Elegance we give a special discount to all Brazilian Embroidery teachers that are ordering supplies for their classes. We feel that they should be rewarded for the effort of getting supplies to each of their students. Many teachers never receive what they truly deserve for spreading the knowledge of this beautiful art. We would like to know a little about you, your classes and your students' needs.

Name of teacher: _____

Business Name where you are teaching: _____

Phone: _____ How long have you been teaching? _____

How many students do you have? (Minimum of 3 for discounts) _____

What level are the majority of your students? _____

E-mail address: _____

Mailing Address: _____

A special note: The teachers prices are not just a given right. It is a reward I am giving for your hard work. You must provide us with the information above. The discount is not automatically given to those that say "I am a teacher ". The discounts are for the teachers' supplies for a class and what she is ordering for her students. Buying one design for you does not qualify unless it is followed up with an order for student supplies.

We can only continue to reward the teachers as long as the discount is not abused. Traceable designs from a book can not be shared with your students. Each student must purchase their own book.

A "teacher", in this instance, is a Brazilian Embroidery teacher and is purchasing in that capacity.

Your reward is NOT to be passed onto the student. The student MUST pay at least suggested retail price for the product. If this policy is not followed - the discounts will not be allowed.

E-mail us at elegance@jdr-be.com if you have questions.

I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT I AM PURCHASING FOR USE IN MY CLASSROOM BY MY STUDENTS

Also Certified: That the merchandise will be presented in the same form and will not be copied or altered in any manner. I understand that any item purchased from JDR Brazilian Elegance that is used for personal purposes are to be purchased at retail costs. It is understood that I may be required by the sales and use tax law to report and pay appropriate use tax in my own state.

The Designer and the question of copyrights - my view

If you question whether it is a copyright infringement – it most probably is - don't copy.

If it is on paper - don't copy.

If it is on fabric - don't copy.

If you have seen it someplace else - don't copy.

If you would normally pay for it - don't copy.

If you want an extra design print - buy it.

If you bought it once - you have to buy it every time.

If you want to copy a printed design for putting on your clothing – call the designer and ask FIRST – don't copy.

If you want the prices of designs to stay at a reasonable price - don't copy.

If you want books to stay at a reasonable price – don't copy.

If you want more designers to supply you with more choices of designs – don't copy.

A person cannot sell, distribute or teach for personal gain or to save others from purchasing a pattern from a magazine, pattern package or any other source without the permission of the copyright holder.

In recognizing and respecting a designer's rights in their work, you are helping to ensure that those designers will continue to keep creating their wonderful designs, the very design that gives you hours of pleasure.

Designers would like to keep providing you with wonderful designs to stitch.

You must realize that designers must provide for their families by being paid for their time and talents. Each time you give/take a $10 design without paying for it means the designer doesn't get to purchase that little gift for the grandbaby. (Puts it in a whole different light? Yes?)

Only the designer has the right to reproduce a design, prepare derivative works or distribute copies to the public by sale or lending.

And only the designer has the right to publicly display or sell the work produced by the pattern. So if in doubt – ask first, most designers are delighted for you to display your finished designs/enter them into fairs and receive ribbons as long as you have a statement "Design by...." Giving the designer credit for the design. But, give them the respect they deserve, ask first.

If you want to sell your finished piece – talk to the designer. One or two might be ok but 5 or more might not be. Always ask.

If you cannot afford to buy the pattern, to be completely safe, it is best to create your own flowers, from public domain stitches or variations created entirely by you, do your own drawings and write your own instructions. Copy NOTHING. Most copyright statements read that NO part of the entire packaged design may be reproduced in ANY form without prior written permission from the author. NO PART - NOT IN ANY FORM.

Remember it is better to ask and receive than to just take/steal. Most designers will work with you. I prefer for people to be honest. Legal costs are wasted stitching supplies' dollars. I would rather be stitching than sitting court – wouldn't you?

Cheryl Schuler I am not a lawyer – this is just my personal view.
